One-Page Business Plan & 3-Year Model

A condensed sample of what I deliver: the plan on a page plus a clean financial model and a lender/investor-readiness read. (Illustrative, for a fictional specialty coffee roaster seeking a small-business loan.)

THE PLAN

- Problem: local cafes can't get fresh, consistent, small-batch beans at a fair wholesale price.
- Solution: a micro-roastery supplying cafes and a DTC subscription, roasted-to-order.
- Customer: independent cafes (wholesale) + at-home enthusiasts (DTC).
- Model: wholesale accounts (recurring) + higher-margin DTC subscriptions.
- Ask: $120K SBA loan for a roaster, buildout, and 6 months of working capital.

| Operating expenses  | ($150,000)       | ($300,000)      | ($520,000)      |

LENDER / INVESTOR READINESS

- Break-even in Year 2; positive net income by month ~20 on conservative assumptions.
- Debt-service coverage clears typical SBA thresholds from Year 2 onward.
- Key risks named with mitigations (green-coffee price swings, wholesale concentration).

A live engagement includes the full model (monthly cash flow, assumptions tab, sensitivity) and a written recommendations memo. Figures here are illustrative.
